From Behind the Desk...

Welcome to the October issue of the One Tree Hill Grapevine. There has been so much happening around One Tree Hill lately! I hope you've been able to join in with some of the events, and enjoy the spring sunshine. Our cover page is an aerial shot of our town which you'll also find on our new web site. Read the President's report for more info on that.

This issue there is plenty to read about preparing for bushfire season, and opportunity at a community info session to help you get ready for summer. Read about some locals doing great things, and some opportunities to take time out with nature, hobbies and fun. Locals love to see local stories and photos so send me something about what your family is doing around One Tree Hill!

If you have any information about local achievements, new ideas or you would like to run something by me, please be in touch.

One Tree Hill Progress Association ~ President's Report

Dear Residents,

We have a new website! Have a look at <http://onetreehill.org.au> and let us know what you think. There is a lot more information and pictures, all of which are now easier to find. If you have some great pictures or town information that you would like to contribute to the site, please drop me a line at my new email address of president@onetreehill.org.au.

Playford Council have given us "tentative approval for a 12-month trial" of a Street Library in front of the Institute, subject to acceptance of a detailed design and location application. At our 12th September meeting, we decided to get a library box made as we haven't been able to find anything suitable. Moving onto the design stage...

Thank you to those residents who have signed the petition regarding the placement of the town information sign adjacent to Jordan Drive. We are now following this matter up with Playford Council and we are hopeful that they will address our safety concerns.

Our next meeting is at 7:30pm on Thursday 10th October in the Institute at One Tree Hill.

Kind Regards,

Steve Huckstepp
President, One Tree Hill Progress Association

One Tree Hill CFS ~ Incident Report September 2019

Several more vehicle accidents this month including the unusual situation of having two calls within seven minutes of each other. This occurred on Saturday the 14th of September with the initial call to respond to Somerset Grove in Craigmare covering a call in the Dalkieth Brigade area because Dalkieth were already fully committed at another job. The first responding truck passed the second accident on the way to this incident and after a quick assessment continued to the first call. This is in accordance with CFS procedure which dictates that unless there is clearly a higher priority for the second call, we deal with incidents in the order they were received.

We had another call to a single car MVA (Motor Vehicle Accident) at around 6:30 a.m. on the 28th of August which turned out to be 2 cars which had been involved in a near head-on accident on the Gawler-One Tree Hill Road with one of the cars ending up in the paddock alongside the road. This was the most serious accident we have had in a while and involved removing the roof from one of the vehicles so that the patient could be extracted before being taken to hospital by ambulance.

Two calls were for rubbish or waste fires and in both cases the fires were extinguished because they did not meet the burning guidelines issued by the Council. It is a good idea if you are having a burn off to check and ensure that you are meeting the requirements, including size, availability of water and having someone in attendance. If you plan on using the "comfort fire" excuse, please also check the CFS website for what constitutes a comfort fire.

Two more calls this month, one to assist the MFS with water at a 2 story town house fire in Blakeview which was widely reported in the media. The other was a call to assist the SA Ambulance with a lift in a paddock. These happen occasionally where a person has fallen and hurt themselves and need to be physically carried from a paddock to the ambulance because of lack of access.

Bushfire Survival Plan Workshop

I quite often speak about your Bushfire Survival Plan but it can also be quite difficult to know where to start or what to include. CFS Headquarters have arranged a workshop where they will discuss how to go about making your plan. They guarantee that at the end of the workshop you will leave with a written plan that you can take home and discuss with your loved ones.

The workshop will be held at the McGilp Road Oval (through the arch opposite the shop if you haven't been there) on Sunday the 20th of October between 1:30 and 5:00 p.m. The contact for further information or to register is Kelly McMiles on 0457 101 696 or email kelly.mcmiles3@sa.gov.au.

For general information please contact OTH Duty Phone on 8280 7055.

You can also visit the CFS website at <http://www.cfs.sa.gov.au> or phone 1300 362 361.

Playford Council ~ Local Councillor's Report

Dear Fellow Ratepayers and Residents,

The City of Playford has announced the appointment of Sam Green as its new Chief Executive Officer.

The exhaustive recruitment process saw a strong and impressive calibre of candidates from across Australia. Throughout the process, Sam established himself as a strong candidate and his excellent knowledge and deep understanding of our community was evident.

I have a strong working relationship with Mr Green and have every confidence in his leadership to deliver the goods for the City of Playford. The minutes of the confidential special meetings are now available on the City of Playford internet page. While I supported the appointment of Mr Green as one of your representatives for ward 3, I was a strong advocate to take a conservative approach on the term of the initial appointment. Majority of the chamber did not support my approach and Mr Green has been appointed for five years. Anyone who wishes to have a closer look can refer to the minutes of the special meetings Monday 9th September and Wednesday 11th September 2019.

At the Ordinary Council Meeting 27th August 2019, item 14.6 council resolution was carried for the City of Playford to execute Blackspot Funding Deeds with the Commissioner of Highways which included the intersection of Uley Road/ Gawler-One Tree Hill Road, Yattalunga. The project description list includes, install lighting, signs, pavement widening, left turn construction, raised pavement maker and skid resistance treatment.

If anyone would like to further discuss the council concerns or other details, please give me a call.

As the change of season is upon us, I wish everyone well with their fire preparations. The Question of when the Fire Danger Season will start has been raised and will it be early this year? This will depend on climatic conditions and how the season develops. It is expected by approximately early to late November CFS will be in a position to provide advice to the community (and Council) regarding the start of the Fire Danger Season.

Until next month.

Best wishes and regards,

Cr David Kerrison

Good results for roadsides

Natural Resources Adelaide and Mt Lofty Ranges officers have been working closely together with the City of Playford council over the past 8 years to manage Chilean Needle Grass (CNG) on the roadsides. In the 2018 survey great results were seen with significantly less plants found. 75% of all known roadside sites had no CNG with the remaining sites having only a low number of plants.

The ongoing success has been a big win for the environment and community. An added benefit is an increase of native grasses due to a modified mowing program which favours native grass seed set.

Identification

Chilean Needle Grass is a tussock grass identified by its red-purple, drooping seed heads and needle-like seeds. These predominantly appear late October through to December. Take care to identify the grass correctly as it can be confused with others that have similar seeds and a drooping form. Barley grass, great brome grass and native spear grass are the most common plants this weed gets confused with. More information can be found at weeds.ala.org.au/WoNS/Chileanneedlegrass Still unsure how to identify or control CNG successfully? Then come over to Dean's Fodder Store on market day Saturday 2nd Nov and have a chat with Natural Resources AMLR District Officers Tracey and Monica or simply pick up free, useful fact sheets on this weed and others local to the area.

One Tree Hill ~ Weed Of Concern

Boneseed (Chrysanthemoides monilifera ssp. Monilifera) is a Weed of National Significance and a declared plant under the Natural Resources Management Act 2004 (NRM Act). The movement or transport of the plant on a public road, by itself or as a contaminant, or the sale by itself or as a contaminant is prohibited. It is regarded as one of the worst weeds in Australia because of its invasiveness, potential for spread, and economic and environmental impacts. Boneseed has become an aggressive invader of native bushland in Australia. Although it does not affect agriculture, it is considered a weed because of its ability to establish in areas of native vegetation ranging from mallee scrub to eucalypt dominated forests and, in particular, the coastal fringe.

Boneseed is a bushy, woody, erect, perennial shrub to 3 m high, and lives for 10 to 20 years. The stems are much-branched, green or often purplish-green when young, and become woody with age. The leaves which are 20-80 mm long, dull, green, elliptic and leathery, are alternately arranged and have edges which are coarsely toothed. The bright yellow daisy flower heads with brownish centres are 10-40 mm in diameter each with 5 or 6 radiating petals. The fruits are globular, 6-8 mm in diameter, with a thin outer fleshy purple-green layer which turns black and flakes off revealing a white bony fruit containing a single egg shaped seed which persists on the bush for several months. Each fruit holds one seed which is bone coloured and very hard, hence its common name "Boneseed". A single plant can produce 50,000 seeds a year of which about 60 percent are viable. Seeds can remain dormant in the soil more than 10 years.

Boneseed is native to South Africa, and was introduced to Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide as an ornamental in the 1850's and was first recorded in the wild in 1852 in Sydney and 1892 in Adelaide. It is very common in parts of the Mt Lofty Ranges, with occasional infestations throughout the State.

Boneseed grows rapidly during winter and a few plants may flower in the first year, particularly on burnt areas where there is little competition. However, plants are usually at least 18 months and sometimes three years old before flowering. Flowers are formed in late winter and spring (Aug – Oct), and the fruit shed seeds in summer (Oct - Jan). Seeds germinate at any time of the year but mostly in autumn and is now an aggressive weed of roadsides and disturbed woodland. It flowers mostly in late winter and spring.

Seedling with serrated leaves

A range of effective control measures are available including hand pulling, herbicide treatment, physical removal, fire and biological control. Natural regeneration or oversowing with native plants is an important part of the rehabilitation process. Because of the large and persistent seedbanks in the soil, follow-up treatment is required for many years.

Small infestations can be removed by hand-pulling quite easily because it has a shallow root system. Several herbicides are registered to control boneseed by spray or cut-stump application. The cut-stump application method reduces the risk to nearby nontarget plants but is time-consuming, especially when dealing with large numbers of small boneseed plants. Burning will trigger mass germination of boneseed and may also improve access for herbicide application. Spraying small seedlings in the first few months after germination is generally ineffective because they are quickly replaced by new ones. It is better to spray at the end of seedling emergence but, even then, follow-up control will be needed in subsequent years after further germination has taken place.

In inaccessible locations, or where there is a risk of damage to sensitive native vegetation, conventional control methods may be difficult or impossible to implement. In such cases biocontrol may be the only feasible management option, although alone it will not eradicate the weed. The likely effect is to reduce the growth and rate of spread of the weed, allowing more time for control by other means. The boneseed leaf buckle mite has been released at selected sites in the Adelaide and Mt Lofty Ranges. However survival of the mites appears to be an issue, and community groups are being encouraged to start nurseries to grow their own boneseed leaf buckle mites for transference onto field plants.
