From the Desk

Welcome to the Anzac edition of the Grapevine. One Tree Hill can be proud again after hosting a memorable Anzac Day Dawn Service. The cover, page 4 and 5 have photos taken during the Service and after the Service. Pictures speak louder than words don't they? We also have the poem which was read out at the Anzac Dawn Service and sent it to us by Glenice Leonard.

We have had a bit of a shuffle around with pages this month to allow more advertisements to be added, so our regular colour page 3 has been changed to page 4. Hopefully you will get used to it.

There is a bit of a mixture of articles this month but the emphasis is on Anzac Day and of course Mother's Day.

We take this opportunity to wish all the Mum's and Grandmother's a beautiful day filled with lots of hugs and kisses from their family.

On page 6 we have the special memorial service held at the OTH Primary School, what a fabulous job the kids did painting the rainwater tank and making those lovely wreaths. Well done kids and parents and of course all the workers involved in getting the event organised.

We also feature local identity Graham who received his life membership from the CFS recently, congratulations Graham. The OTH Primary School Ladies lunch is also featured, Kay Ellis does a wonderful job organising the event each year. She's made a special mention that if you would like to bring a guest next year you are more than welcome.

Institute, doesn't it look wonderful and isn't technology great these days. We also have a very easy recipe for French Toast Roll-ups on page 7 that would be ideal for the kids to get involved in for Mother's Day.

On page 16 we have an article sent in by Heather Garfield who has an exhibition of her beautiful water colour paintings, the exhibition is called 'Salt Water'. It starts later in the month in Gawler, it would be great to go along to support a local artist. Page 19 has more tips on rearing goats, thank you to Julie who writes our regular Horse Tips Articles. She certainly knows her animals. Don't forget if you need some advice email us and we will pass it on to Julie.

Page 19 also has some tips for helping around the garden and uses for teabags.

On page 23 we have two events that may interest you, these have been put together by Anne Ellis who is the Community Development Officer of the Sampson Flat Bushfires.

Plus we have a few funnies thrown in to keep you amused.

We hope you enjoy this edition of the Grapevine. Until next month, the Editorial Team.

President's Report May 2015

The One Tree Hill Progress Association has just completed a very successful ANZAC Day Dawn Service of remembrance attended by an estimated 1,000 people who felt it was important to attend and brave the elements.

Many thanks must go to those who assisted in any way to make this a Service we can all be proud of.

A huge thank you to the RAAF volunteers, RAN and Army personnel for their time and assistance pre the 25th April. Some even come up to the One Tree Hill Institute on Friday for a 2nd or 3rd practice session, their presence was most appreciated.

The presenters of special parts of the Service were WGCDR Pat Woods (RAAF Chaplain) and Rev. Brain Polkinghorne from the OTH Uniting Church. Also, retired Army Lt. Colonel Gary Ferguson, spoke on behalf of OTH residents. His segment was well researched and related to the input of local families to WW1 and the events as they unfolded 100 years ago.

I must also make mention of our bugler, Chris Barritt who kindly donated his services, he did a wonderful job.

Special thanks to our hard working Secretary, June Owens and Hall Manager, Pat Jones who along with many others worked tirelessly to make it all happen.

The many items of memorabilia and uniforms for the displays that were donated for the day told the story in graphic detail.

Trevor Bateman played some beautiful 'war time' tunes during the breakfast which really enthralled those who were able to make it through to the second hall to view the memorabilia.

The Scouts and other community groups, who cooked the breakfast, donated Anzac biscuits and all the adults and children who assisted in setting up and returned to clean up after the event - a big thank you.

It never ceases to amaze me that people both local and from out of town turn up to donate their time and support to make this event the success it is.

It was good to see Judy Mortimer attend the Service even though she has moved out of the area after selling her property. Judy was a past President of the OTH Progress Association and assisted with the revamped coloured Grapevine and the re-instating of the Anzac Dawn Service in 2009. Thank you Judy, you will be fondly remembered. We hope to see her visiting OTH many times in the future.

The Institute is now officially closed for 2 months for major internal renovations. We all hope that the result is an up-graded facility we can be proud of.

One again, a big thank you to all who contributed in any way to the Anzac Dawn Service. The community spirit of One Tree Hill is very much alive and it is a pleasure to see just what can be achieved by a group of volunteers working cooperatively together.

Don't forget the OTH Progress Association AGM is on the 14th May, 7.30pm at the CFS Station, we'd love to see you there.

ONE TREE HILL GRAPEVINE CFS REPORT MAY 2015

Incident Report

Only 5 call-outs this month, mostly minor, but some lessons to be learnt. First, a grass fire started by a truck in long grass which was quickly extinguished but shows that we can't ever be complacent when it comes to long dry grass and hot exhausts. That seems to have been a last hurrah for a trying fire season, we certainly hope so.

We had two calls for cars colliding with trees and although both of those were relatively minor, sadly, it is not a good start to the winter months with plenty more rain to come. The last thing we want is tragic accidents in our area, so please drive to conditions.

Last week, we had a report that there was still a stump going from the Sampson Flat fire in January. We have extinguished this stump several times but it shows how difficult it can be to get water into some of these trees that are smouldering internally. The lesson here is that when disposing of ashes from your combustion fire, it can be hard to tell if they are completely out. In the past we have had fires start from ashes in plastic buckets left next to buildings, so please dispose of your ashes carefully. While on the topic of home heating, if you haven't already done so, it is the time to check your flues and chimneys and ensure that they are ready for winter.

With winter coming up it is a good time to hop onto your computer and take a look at the resources available on the CFS website. While the CFS does its utmost to protect property, a lot of our success involves good preparation by land owners. There were a lot of lessons learnt in the January fire and it is never too soon to start for those who think that they could have done more.

If you don't have a Bushfire Action Plan please spend some time to make one now.

For general information please contact One Tree Hill Duty Officer Phone 8280 7055
You can also visit the CFS website (www.cfs.sa.gov.au) or phone 1300 362 361

Councillor's Report MAY 2015

My report will be short this month. I think the most important issue for residents and ratepayers is that the City of Playford will soon be undertaking a 21 day public consultation on its business plans. The plans include the Strategic Plan Delivery Program (inclusive of 2015/16 Annual Business Plan and Budget), Long Term Financial Plan and Asset Management Plan. This is the chance to have your say and provide your views on the proposed plans to help ensure Council is meeting your needs as a Playford community member and comment on next year's RATES and EXPENDITURE.

The public consultation will run from 6-26 May 2015, closing with a Public Hearing prior to the Council Meeting on 26 May 2015. For persons wishing to make a submission in relation to the Plans, it is preferable if you can let Council know in advance that you wish to address Council in relation to the above plans however given that the closing date for public consultation is the same as the public meeting please make yourself available and let staff know you wish to speak. Please note the above dates are subject to change should there be any delay in the process for endorsing the draft Plans for public consultation. Please contact Michael White Manager Planning Strategy City of Playford on 8256 0278 or email mwhite@playford.sa.gov.au or www.playford.sa.gov.au should you require further information.

OTH PROGRESS AGM 14th MAY

The next meeting will be at the CFS Station on Black Top Road, OTH. (Due to renovations at the Institute).

All positions will be open for nomination so come along and help continue the tradition of OTH Progress Associate in a friendly relaxed atmosphere.

If you have any concerns or issues with or about our City, please in the first instance phone Council's 24 hour phone number 8256 0333 and or Email: playford@playford.sa.gov.au, it is now a legal requirement that all Council business is provided in writing for transparency and proper record keeping purposes and cc your email to me at crjfederico@playford.sa.gov.au so as I also have a clear understanding of your issues.

When speaking to Council please remember to get a Customer Reference Number (CRN) to ensure registration and easy identification of your communication. It is now a requirement when bringing a Council issue to me at the Country Market, to put it in writing, so as I have a hard copy of your issue to give to Council for action. Three fishermen were fishing when they came upon a mermaid, the mermaid offered them one wish each so the first fisherman said: Double my IQ" so the mermaid did it and to his surprise he started reciting Shakespeare. Then the second fisherman said "Triple my IQ" and sure enough the mermaid did it and amazingly he started doing math problems he didn't know existed. The third fisherman asked the mermaid to quadruple his IQ. The mermaid said "Are you really sure about this? It will change your whole life!" the fisherman excitedly said "Yes" so the mermaid turned him into a woman....

ANZAC DAY DAWN SERVICE 2015

A Poem for My Hero - 1915

I never knew my Grandad
Nor ever did his son
At the birth of his child he went to war
Never to come back to the land he was born.

I never knew my Grandad
But I know of where he went
To fight and dig the trenches
The reason he was sent.

His pals were with him on the Somme
And doing the best they could
But always up against it
Retreat they never would.

They never thought to question
To give up or surrender
But many lost their lives for us
A peace we must remember.

I never knew my Grandad
But forget I never will
For what he did for freedom
Is not forgotten still.

Now I know my Grandad
He's always in my thoughts
As days go by I still recall
The sort of man he was.

Now I know my Grandad
A man who made me free
Because he was a Hero
Life's been good to me.

Written by Glenice Leonard's (local OTH) brother who entered a competition by the BBC in England. The family didn't know their Grandad because he was killed in France in 1916 when Glenice and her brothers Dad was just a baby.

Photos taken by Megan and Bruce during the OTH Dawn Service. Many thanks for helping make the day even more memorable especially for those who couldn't attend.

ANZAC DAY DAWN SERVICE 2015

One Tree Hill once again held a lovely Anzac Dawn Service at the OTH Institute. It was very well attended with estimates of around 1,000 attending, it seems to be attracting more and more people each year.

Photos on page 4 show the Dawn Service and we have many of the after Service photos on this page including local resident Ken Jones (ex RAN and Vietnam Vet) who laid a wreath on behalf of OTH residents, he is pictured with all of his grandchildren who were bursting with pride.

Many stayed behind to enjoy the 'gunfire' breakfast cooked by the OTH Scouts and coffee, tea and juice were provided along with traditional Anzac Biscuits.

Our oldest resident Rose Shillabeer attended (she is 100 years old) along with WWII Veterans, Lance Walter (90s) and Fred Riley (96). Fred was awarded the Legion of Honour Medal last year. He is seen in one of the photos talking to English people who were quite fascinated as he related to the display set up by his family.

Trevor Bateman entertained the many people who were able to get in to look at the displays and memorabilia in the 2nd hall with war time music.

There was even a World War 1 Field Soup Kitchen on display which has partially been restored by local, Hugh Davis. (Hugh displays a different vehicle for us each year)

Well done once again One Tree Hill for making the Centenary of Gallipoli a day to remember.

One Tree Hill Primary School Anzac Service

On Friday 10th April, the One Tree Hill Primary School held their special Anzac Service at the school.

The ceremony had a bugler along with a light horseman and Champ (the horse who appeared at last years Anzac Dawn Service).

The newly painted rainwater tank was unveiled, this was a fabulous effort by the children of the school under the guidance of Ann Shannon (one of the parents).

The children also made wreaths to lay by the tank in remembrance of the soldiers who gave their lives to give us a better place to live.

The ceremony was attended by all the children who attend the school along with teachers, visitors and parents.

*Great job kids, you should feel very proud of yourselves.
The photos tell the story of a really memorable day.*

The Annual Ladies Lunch for Mothers of the One Tree Hill Primary School from the 60s - 80s held their lunch at the Blacksmith's Inn on the last Friday of February (which is when it is held each year). The lunch was a great success with non stop chatter from one end of the table to the other. As usual it was a great catch up with news and swapping stories of nostalgia. Kay thanks you all for making the lunch so worthwhile. Don't forget to pen it in for next year and guests are more than welcome.

Life Membership To Local For Services To CFS

Long term residents Graham and Maureen moved to One Tree Hill in 1977 where they lived for 2 years on the Gawler Scenic Route. They then bought an allotment in the heart of One Tree Hill where they lived in a shed and caravan until the building completion of their home in 1980.

Graham, who the OTH CFS life membership was awarded to on March 16th, was born and raised in Adelaide and grew up in Burnside. At 12 years of age Lacrosse became his great passion, he played for Burnside Lacrosse Club for many years. During this time he represented South Australia for 9 years in the Junior, Colt and Senior teams. In 1965 he was selected in the All Australian Lacrosse Team playing against Canada.

Graham and Maureen married in 1963, their first home was at Brahma Lodge where they stayed for 14 years. During this time they had 3 children, Tracy, Carolyn and Peter.

Graham worked as a Tradesman at the GMH Elizabeth Plant for several years before taking on a position as a Trade Instructor/Social Worker at Lochiel Park (a home for minor delinquent boys).

Graham also had a keen interest in local government and was a Councillor for two years with the Playford Council but had to step down due to health problems.

Graham joined the One Tree Hill CFS in 1997 and has been an enthusiastic member for 18 years. He has held the position of OTH Brigade Communications Officer for many years. He is also part of the Incident Management Structure for the Para Group assuming responsibility for all communications of the Para Base during Group major incidents such as the Sampson Flat bushfires in January.

Graham feels very honoured to have received his award of Life Membership to the One Tree Hill CFS.

Congratulations Graham, what a wonderful achievement.

TRIBUTE TO OUR WAR HEROES INSTALLED

Some of you may have already noticed that we now have a soldier figure near the entrance to the One Tree Hill Institute. The silhouette of a Soldier has been erected by Playford Council and just in time for our Anzac Dawn Service.

Technology as it is today is allowing us to learn more about the 15 veterans from our area who gave so much for their country and made it what it is today. The soldier is cut of metal with an etched QR code, it stands approximately 1.5 metres tall.

The QR Code can be downloaded from either the iTunes app store or the Google app store depending on the type of phone. You need to search for QR code and pick one to download.

Once downloaded you simply open the app, point the phone at the code on the soldier and the phone should take you directly to the correct web page. The page is the City of Playford and it will tell you more about local soldiers who did not return.

We hope that if you have a smart phone with internet connections you will check it out.

French Toast Roll-Ups (These are amazing)

Ingredients:

8 Slices white sandwich bread
Softened Cream Cheese
Diced Strawberries, or Nutella
2 Eggs
3 Tablespoons Milk
1/3 Cup Sugar
1 Heaped Teaspoon ground Cinnamon
Butter (for greasing pan)

Method: Cut the crusts from each slice of bread and flatten out with a rolling pin. Place about 1-2 teaspoons of your chosen filling 1 inch (2.5cm) from one end of the bread in a strip. Roll the bread up tightly and repeat with the remaining pieces of bread. Cream cheese with diced strawberries are especially nice but use your imagination and put what you like.

In a shallow bowl whisk the eggs and milk until combined. In a separate bowl mix the sugar with the cinnamon. Heat a skillet over medium heat and melt a tablespoon of butter. Dip each piece of bread in the egg mixture coating well and then place them in pan, seam side down. Cook in batches until golden brown, turning them to cook and brown on all sides, about 2 minutes per side. Add butter to the pan as needed.

Add cooked rolls immediately from the pan to the cinnamon sugar and roll until completely covered. You can serve with syrup for dipping but they are pretty good all by themselves.

Maybe the kids with help from Dad could serve you these for afternoon tea on Mother's Day.

Mother's Day

Horse Care - Buying Your First Horse - Feeding

You have bought your first horse, decided where you will keep him and are about to bring him home. Have you arranged his feed? If at all possible, ask the seller for a day's ration; hay and any other feed they normally get. Providing the same feed for the first day will help him settle in. It will also reduce the digestive upsets of changing feed. The added bonus is that you get to see exactly what he is used to getting: the quality and type of hay as well as any bagged feed. Try to get the same hay for a week or two, even if you want to change later.

Horses need roughage. This includes grass, hay and chaff. If he has been on good grass, he can continue on that if you have it. If you have good grass but he has never seen grass, feed some hay until his gut acclimatises. Chaff is chopped hay. Most horses have sufficient teeth to do their own chopping. It is better for their gut and your wallet and gives them some amusement to while away their day. Chaff goes down too quickly to be more than a passing interest. They should have a minimum of 1% of their bodyweight in hay/grass/chaff per day (5 kg for a large horse). Wet grass counts for only half its actual weight as the rest is water.

If he is not getting all his feed from the paddock, feed 2 or 3 times a day. It gives him more activity (chewing spread over longer times), allows you to check him and teaches him that your presence is pleasant (this leads to easier catching). Think of it this way: you can manage on 7 vitamin and mineral capsules per day. Do you want to?

Since our horses do not have the liberty to travel many miles and search for weeds, rocks, roots and different feeds, we have to ensure they have all the nutrients they need. Grass, hay and chaff will not provide them all. My old favourite "salt licks" helps. Not sodium chloride (I know I harp on this) although that is essential too. I mean a lick that has many nutrients in it. No lick has them all, so provide several different ones. They are sometimes called "lick blocks".

The other item I like to feed, and my horses like to eat, is a small feed of a commercial mix. I do mean small. Most of our leisure horses are not working hard enough for big feeds and would do better on a small feed occasionally and more hay. But a small feed can be a carrier for special needs supplements. My old pony gets an arthritis supplement in her feed twice a week in summer and every day in winter. It is a vehicle to add Bute or any other medication your vet needs to administer (by mouth).

It can be a way of worming if the horse eagerly eats all his feed: simply add the wormer to the feed and mix thoroughly. You do have to watch that he eats it and does not avoid the medicine. Pelleted feeds (including the larger nut size) have all the nutrients mixed into them and are often heat stabilised so they do not deteriorate too quickly. But they do not allow mixing of strange ingredients. For that reason I prefer a mix: usually chaff, grain, pellets all combined. You can, of course, mix such a blend yourself. But for a small feed 2 or 3 times a week, it is hardly worth the trouble. By small, I am talking about half a kilogram. Of course, if your horse is losing weight you need to increase the amount of this feed. The amount to feed depends on the breed, age and work load of the horse.

The last part about feeding your new horse is; where. If hung too high, a hay rack may allow grass seeds to fall into his eyes. To allow the lungs to drain (dusty feed gets into the lungs) it is better to feed at ground height. Not on the ground as this allows the horse to pick up dirt, sand and worm eggs. Put a large feeder on the ground and put the feed in that. Half a 200 litre plastic drum works well. I use separate feeders for my hay and the hard feed. If you put hard feed on top of the hay it will fall through the hay which will be thrown out of the bin as the horse forages for the hard feed.

Check the feed bin before filling with the next feed. Some horses seem to delight in filling it from their other end! Wash thoroughly occasionally; the frequency depends on how dirty it gets.

And of course, don't forget to provide clean cool water in sufficient quantity. 40 litres per day in warm weather. More if very hot.

From The Past - Assorted Clippings From The Early Days at OTH

Friday 21st April, 1916 - ONE TREE HILL

The tenth annual festival in connection with the One Tree Hill Rechabite Lodge was held on the grounds of Mr. W. Smith, Sampson Flat, on Saturday afternoon.

The members of the Lodge generously agreed to hand the proceeds to the Gawler Motor Ambulance and Red Cross Society and in return the Gawler friends promised to provide the concert programme. Messrs Taylor Bros kindly placed their motor charabanc at the disposal of the Gawler committee and as this proved inadequate a drag was also chartered from Messrs W. Hobart & Son, and was well patronized. Several Gawler people motored or drove out to One Tree Hill so that there was quite a large attendance.

Sports were the order of the afternoon, and both juvenile and adult events were contested. Mr. P. Broderick realised £5 from his cheap jack show; Mr. G. Humphrys also helped with his shooting gallery and Mr. A. Milne and Mr. A. Stewart with skittles netted a few shillings. Mr. F. Barritt presented a fine sheep for disposal and in the guessing competition for the weight of the animal, Mr. McGee guessed the exact weight, 117½ lbs.

The competition brought in £4/3- and the sheep was bought back by the committee and sold during the interval of the concert on the Bugler system. Mr. Broderick acted as the auctioneer and realised £11/11/-. Mr. J. Purdie being the ultimate owner. A dog presented by Captain Connor brought 8/-. The Tea realised £6/16/7, and the takings at the concert about £8. The total proceeds amounted to £38 so there should be over £30 to divide between the Motor Ambulance and Red Cross Funds.

The following took part in the concert: - Anzac Orchestra, consisting of Mrs. F. Baker, Misses H. Rogers and M. May, and Mr. H. Combe played selections. Solos were given by Mrs. C. Fergusson, Misses M. Cilento, R. Black, and Mr. A. Wingate; duet by Misses Smith and Rebbeck, banjo selections by Mr. E. Marchant and recitations by Misses E. Lewis and M. May. The accompanists were Mrs. C. Fergusson, Misses M. May and J. Patterson, Mrs. W. J. May and Miss D. Ey arranged the programme and the other duties at the Gawler end were carried out by Messrs. A. Milne, P. Beanall and P. Broderick, while Mr. Geo. Bowman, as Secretary and a strong committee had the arrangements well carried out at One Tree Hill. D.C.R. Bro, W.J. Boyd was chairman and during the evening both he and D.S.I.T. Bro. H. Evans gave addresses.

We would love to hear from you if you have some old photos or stories about growing up in One Tree Hill. Contact details page 2.

FRIDAY JUNE 28th 1935

ROTATIONAL FARMING AT ONE TREE HILL

Matters of interest to primary producers are constantly brought before my notice during visits to farmers, says Mr. R. Hill (R.D.A.), District Agricultural Instructor, and it is with the hope of conveying useful information to those interested in live stock that mention is made of the work being done by Mr. Harvey Kelly of One Tree Hill.

Realising that sheep were not making satisfactory progress toward fattening on barley grain grown for them in previous years, Mr. Kelly experimented with two rowed barley sown on pea stubble and grassed heavily until the end of September. The field was then shut up until the barley grain reached the doughy stage when it was cut with a mowing machine and raked in rows. 200 hoggets then turned into the field were readily fattened, and the paddock was cleaned up with a number of breeding ewes which followed. The practice presents a new method of handling fields of this kind economically, and of obtaining full value from the food before it becomes too matured and fibrous.

An adjoining field, which was under peas of the Dark Eyed Susan variety last year and was used to fatten 2,000 lambs, has been sown this year with barley, and following the satisfactory results of last year will be grazed and clipped in the same manner. Another field of 40 acres on Mr. Kelly's property, after growing a good crop of hay last year was sown to Dwarf Essex Rape at the rate of 6lb., 2lb. of Wimmera Rye Grass and 3lb. of Cereal Rye per acre at the end of March with 1 cwt. of superphosphate. This field has already fattened 400 lambs (the culls of a mob of 2,000), and in four weeks improved their value from 12/ a head to 18/ per head. At present, this field promises to continue producing feed, for at least a similar number of lambs.

ONE TREE HILL - APRIL 1st 1889

On Sunday, March 24th, the local Sunday school anniversary was held. Two sermons were preached by Mr. Shepard of Gawler. On Tuesday a picnic was held on Sampson Flat, a dinner and tea being provided by the ladies of the church.

During the day a large number of visitors were on the ground. To the Sunday school children prizes were given for tilting, footraces, and other games. A cricket match was also played between Salisbury and One Tree Hill Clubs. On Sunday March 30, Mr. Kelly (the superintendent) distributed the annual prizes each scholar receiving a gift. The scholars number 69 and the officers and teachers 5.

Hello, well it's back to school time again for all you children. I hope that you all had a pleasant holiday and a wonderful Easter. I wonder how many of you attended the One Tree Hill Anzac Day Dawn Service at the Institute? It was quite cold wasn't it but I guess your parents rugged you up for the weather. It's a sad day but it's nice to remember that all the veterans helped us to grow up in this wonderful country, we wouldn't have what we have today if it wasn't for their valiant efforts.

Don't forget to spoil your Mum this Mother's Day, perhaps you can get Dad to help you make the roll ups we have on page 6.

Enjoy this term at school and don't forget to send me some puzzles or stories to publish in the Grapevine.

Until next month, Auntie Bev. Email: oth.grapevine@bigpond.com or drop me a line at the Grapevine.

Momentous Events Throughout Time

MAY

May 1st, 1707 - Great Britain was formed from a union between England and Scotland. The union included Wales which had already been part of England since the 1500s. The United Kingdom today consists of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

May 2nd, 2011 - U.S. Special Operations Forces killed Osama bin Laden during a raid on his secret compound in Abbottabad, Pakistan. The raid marked the culmination of a decade long manhunt for the elusive leader of the al-Qaeda terrorist organisation based in the Middle East. Bin Laden had ordered the coordinated aerial attacks of September 11th, 2001, in which four American passenger jets were hijacked then crashed, killing nearly 3,000 people.

Two jets had struck and subsequently collapsed the 110 story Twin Towers of the World Trade Centre in New York, while another struck the Pentagon building in Washington, D.C. A fourth jet also headed toward Washington had crashed in to a field in Pennsylvania as passengers attempted to overpower the hijackers on board.

2nd May: Birthday: Golda Meir (1898 - 1978) was born in Kiev, Russia. She was one of the founders of the modern state of Israel and served as prime minister from 1969 to 1974.

May 5th, 1893: The Wall Street Crash of 1893 began as stock prices fell dramatically. By the end of the year, 600 banks closed and several big railroads were in receivership. Another 15,000 businesses went bankrupt amid 20% unemployment. It was the worst economic crisis in U.S. history up to that time.

May 5th Birthday: Communism founder Karl Marx (1818-1883) was born in Treves, Germany. He co-authored Das Kapital and The Communist Manifesto, advocating the abolition of all private property and a system in which workers own all the means of production, land, factories and machinery.

May 6th, 1937: The German airship Hindenburg burst into flames at 7.20pm as it neared the mooring mast at Lakehurst, New Jersey, following a trans-Atlantic voyage. 36 of the 97 passengers and crew were killed. The inferno was caught on film and also witnessed by a commentator who broke down amid the emotional impact and exclaimed, "Oh the humanity!" The accident effectively ended commercial airship traffic.

May 6th Birthday: Psychoanalysis founder Sigmund Freud (1856-1939) was born in Freiberg, Moravia. His theories became the foundation for treating psychiatric disorders by psychoanalysis and offered some of the first workable cures for mental disorders.

May 7th, 1915: The British passenger ship Lusitania was torpedoed by a German submarine off the coast of Ireland, losing 1,198 of its 1,924 passengers, including 114 Americans. The attack hastened neutral America's entry into World War I.

May 7th 1945: In a small red brick schoolhouse in Reims, Germany, General Alfred Jodl signed the unconditional surrender of all German fighting forces thus ending World War II in Europe. Russian, American, British and French ranking officers observed the signing of the document which became effective at one minute past midnight on May 9th. Jodl was then ushered in to see Supreme Allied Commander, General Dwight D. Eisenhower who informed Jodl that he would be held personally responsible for any deviation from the terms of the surrender.

May 8th, 1942: A second German surrender ceremony was held in Berlin. Soviet Russia's leader Josef Stalin had refused to recognize the German surrender document signed a day earlier at Reims. This time, German Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel signed the surrender document which declared, as did the first, that hostilities would end as of 12.01am on May 9th.

May 12th, 1937: George VI was crowned at Westminster Abbey in London following the abdication of his brother, Edward VIII. King George reigned until his death in 1952. He was succeeded by his daughter Elizabeth, the current reigning monarch.

May 12th Birthday: British nurse and public health activist Florence Nightingale (1820-1910) was born in Florence, Italy. She volunteered to aid British troops in Turkey where she improved hospital sanitary conditions and greatly reduce the death rate for wounded and sick soldiers. She received worldwide acclaim for her unselfish devotion to nursing, contributed to the development of modern nursing procedures and emphasized the dignity of nursing as a profession for women.

May 14th 1796: Smallpox vaccine was developed by Dr. Edward Jenner, a physician in rural England. He coined the term vaccination for the new procedure of infecting a milder form of the disease into healthy persons resulting in immunity. Within 18 months, 12,000 people in England had been vaccinated and the number of smallpox deaths dropped by two-thirds.

May 14th Birthday: German physicist Gabriel Fahrenheit (1686-1736) was born in Danzig, Germany. He introduced the use of mercury in thermometers greatly improving their accuracy. His name is now attached to one of the major temperature measurement scales.

May 20th, 1932: Amelia Earhart (1897-1935) became the first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic. She departed Newfoundland, Canada, at 7pm and landed near Londonderry, Ireland, completing a 2,026 mile flight in about 13 hours. Five years later, along with her navigator Fred Noonan, she disappeared while trying to fly her twin-engined plane around the equator.

May 27th, 1937: In San Francisco, 200,000 people celebrated the grand opening of the Golden Gate Bridge by strolling across it.

May 27th Birthday: Legendary wild west figure Wild Bill Hickok (1837-1876) was born in Troy Grove, Illinois. He was a frontiersman, lawman, legendary marksman, army scout and gambler. On August 2nd, 1876, he was shot dead during a poker game by a drunk in the Number Ten saloon in Deadwood, in the Dakota Territory. In his hand he held a pair of eights and a pair of aces which became known as the 'dead man's hand'.

May 30th, 1943: During World War II in the Pacific, the Aleutian Islands off the coast of Alaska were retaken by the U.S. Infantry Division. The battle began on May 12th when an American force of 11,000 landed on Attu. In three weeks of fighting U.S. casualties numbered 552 killed and 1,140 wounded. Japanese killed numbered 2,352, with only 28 taken prisoner, as 500 chose suicide rather than be captured.

May 30th Birthday: Founder of the Russian empire, Peter the Great (1672-1725) was born near Moscow. He vastly increased the power of the Russian monarchy and turned his backward country into a major power in the Western World. Among his accomplishments, he completely overhauled the government and the Greek Orthodox Church as well as the military system and tax structure. He built St. Petersburg, and translated foreign books as well as modernizing the calendar.

SALT WATER EXHIBITION

WATERCOLOURS AND MORE BY HEATHER GARFIELD

This exhibition is the result of a vision I have had for many years and I am anticipating bringing a new and fresh perspective to the Gawler Community Gallery,

With a love and passion for the sea I share with my husband John, spending weekends by the ocean, I have wandered and explored the shores while John would scuba dive. Our two sons and grandchildren enjoy the beach and exploring the shores and rocky edges.

With the smell of the ocean rolling in and the fresh salty air, I have been gathering sea-side 'bits and pieces' for years and have found amazing objects with a dream that one day, I would be able to incorporate some of them, with my watercolour paintings in an exhibition for others to enjoy.

As an enhancement to my artwork I am incorporating some of my husband's hand-crafted old wooden boats. These boats all built to scale and are a labour of love and patience.

For anyone with an appreciation and love of the sea and all that it embraces, please take the opportunity to visit the Gawler Community Gallery and explore this exciting exhibition. Be assured you will not be disappointed. Along with my watercolours there will be some other interesting treasures.

When deciding who I would approach to open my first solo exhibition I had no hesitation in asking my friend, the poet Jeff Guess.

I first met Jeff through a Gawler Art Society colleague. Jeff was searching for someone who would be willing to give him tuition on watercolour painting, so he could design the covers for his poetry collections.

We got along well and eventually he was off on his own to develop his own style. Each year around Christmas we exchange cards. Jeff's card would arrive, it was always a card created by himself and I was amazed to see his style, use of lines and pure colour. I looked forward to this little surprise each Christmas.

The Official Opening is on Sunday 24th May at 2pm, by Jeff Guess, writer/ poet and is very well known in our community. The address is Gawler Community Gallery, Station Masters House, Gawler Railway Station, 23rd Street, Gawler South. Wheel chair access. Open Thursday - Saturday 10am to 4pm. Sunday 9am-3pm. The exhibition runs from 21st May - 28th June 2015. Everyone welcome. Nibbles, wine and juices.

Come along and enjoy this exhibition which I have brought together with love and happy memories.

By Heather Garfield

We wish you every success with your exhibition Heather.

Clever Tips For Gardening

These tips will not only save you time and money but they are more eco-friendly for the garden. Tried and tested by keen gardening enthusiasts around the world, these clever tips will help you around the garden.

1: Reuse citrus rinds (and eggshells) to start seedlings.

2: Put holes in the lid of an empty milk container and use as a watering can.

3: Cut a milk container to use as a scoop for potting mix, fertilisers etc.

4: Slugs and Snails love beer, so set a beer trap for them.

5: If you are going on holidays, pierce a hole in the top of a bottle and fill with water, put lid back on and turn upside down in your plants. This will ensure your favourite plants get a drink while you are away.

6: Sprinkle cinnamon on soil after planting seeds and seedlings to kill fungus and mould.

Tea Bag Uses

Have you ever thought about doing anything other than drinking tea from a tea bag. No, well we have some great ideas here that will intrigue you.

1: Do it Yourself Foot Soak: You will need a peppermint teabag, a few drops of peppermint essential oil, Epsom salts (a couple of tablespoons full) and a glass jar. Pour all the ingredients into a foot bowl and fill with warm water, soak your feet in this solution for a half hour and you will feel wonderful. Tea isn't just for detoxifying from the inside out, it can be used to help you detoxify from the outside in too!

2: De-stress Your Eyes: This is a classic used tea bag idea, put the damp tea bags over your eyes for about 15 minutes to rejuvenate skin naturally. Aside from the helpful tannins, the tea's caffeine is said to shrink the blood vessels around your eyes, making dark puffy bags disappear.

3: Do it Yourself Herbal Hair Conditioner: Gather used Green Tea teabags and brew in hot water, make about one cup full. Pour over hair after washing it and leave on as long as you can. Rinse out, you'll be amazed at how soft and shiny your hair is.

4: Tea tannins are very effective at cutting through grease. Just toss your after dinner tea bag in your greasy pan, fill with hot water and let it work it's magic overnight. Wash as normal the next day, all the grease should be absorbed into the teabag.

5: Rust-proof Your Cookware: Simply rub your cookware with a used tea bag, making sure every surface is covered. It will prevent rust forming on your pots and pans.

The past is like using your rear-view mirror in the car,
It's good to glance back and see how far you've come,
But if you stare too long, you'll miss what's right in front of you.

Goats Eating Habits

Goats are arborists, not lawn mowers. That is, they prefer to prune trees and bushes not grass. (Actually called browsing.)

One theory is that it is a natural way of reducing worm burdens as they eat above the level of parasitic worms. Many animals do this one way or another. Horses leave "roughs" of weeds and tend to manure there, grazing further away. Goats utilise the whole pasture about 30cm above the ground. I have seen goats 3 metres above the ground, laying along the branch of a tree to eat the leaves. I suspect they slipped when walking along the branch and were left with legs dangling either side of the branch.

There are several consequences of the habit of browsing. One is that they do not do well if their feed is put at ground level. They will eat as little as they can manage. If it is fouled by any animal, they are even less likely to eat. The goat on a circular tether will eat all the grass she can reach by stretching the lead, but avoid the patch in the middle as she has urinated or manured there while looking outward. Another consequence is they prune trees and shrubs as high as they can reach, while standing in the middle of lush grass. And big goats can reach up to 3 metres high, standing on their hind legs and stretching with their necks.

Some trees will be immune to goat attack: notably citrus, peach, possibly avocado (though I would not risk my goat experimenting with that one. One avocado leaf can kill a goat!) Other trees will be stripped of all leaves and bark while you are thinking of removing the goats; notably apricots, roses, apples.

The bark of trees and shrubs have nutrients in them that goats particularly need, I suspect they need more than sheep do. Our sheep never ring barked trees but we have had to fence several trees away from the goats.

An alternate nutrient source is my old favourite "salt licks" of various ingredients. Not sodium chloride licks.

Their requirement for NaCl is moderate. It is copper, cobalt, phosphorus, calcium, magnesium and potassium that goats need in abundance. Lick Blocks.

Goats apparently grazing may be eating what other animals would consider weeds. Salvation Jane infestation reduced when goats were around. Goats cannot survive on the leaves (which are a slow poison to all animals), but they do love the flowers, thus preventing the setting of seed. Thistles are another favourite, and again it is the flowers that attract them. Prickles do not seem to worry goats. They will happily munch their way through a blackberry thicket, leaving the thicker branches but eating all the light twigs and the leaves and adore the fruit. Over years this will kill the plant (Note I did say years!)

Tin cans? No, goats do not eat cans. They may lick the inside out, especially if it has had fruit in it. They do not eat meat or meat by-products. If they do, you are not feeding them well enough. But they will taste almost anything that smells vaguely interesting. And reject things when you think you have found something they love.

Goats learn their feeding manners from older goats. The older goat will paw at or horn poisonous plants, to teach younger ones they are unsafe. The alternative is for the goat to taste and see if it gives them a belly ache – a lesson they will not forget if they survive. One of our old does (Annabelle, shown in the previous edition) pawed, horned and otherwise mangled a nightshade plant, then watched as younger does tasted it and spat it out. Lesson learned. Kids brought up without adult goats to learn from are more likely to poison themselves. At one stage of our goat keeping, I had to walk the paddocks and "paw" dangerous weeds to stop the young ones eating them. We had lost all our old goats due to illness and there was no one to show the youngsters what to avoid. But it only took one trip around the paddock to change their eating habits and with these to teach the next generation, I did not have to repeat my game. (Thank goodness: I am sure the neighbours thought I was mad).

More to come in next month's issue of the Grapevine.

If you have any questions about raising goats please email the grapevine: oth.grapevine@bigpond.com and we will pass it on to Julie who will be happy to answer your query.

Rough Heels?

After a long hot summer and slopping around in sandals and thongs we probably all have cracked heels that are catching on the sheets at night.

Here we have a really effective method to get rid of the build up of dead skin.

Grind a handful of rice until you get a fine coarse flour. Add a few teaspoons of raw honey to the ground rice along with enough apple cider vinegar to make a thick paste.

If you have very deep cracks, add a teaspoon full of olive oil.

Soak your feet for 20 minutes and then gently massage with the paste. The results are amazing!

Maybe this would be a nice Mother's Day treat for you to have, get your hubby or kids to massage the paste in. Enjoy!

To Everyone Born in the 50s, 60s, 70s and 80s

We are the last generation who played in the street. We are the 1st who played video games, the last to record songs off the radio on a cassette tape. We walked miles without the worry of being taken....

We learned how to program the VCR before anyone else, we played Atari to Nintendo.... We are the generation of Tom and Jerry, Looney Toons and Captain Kangaroo.

We travelled in cars without seat belts of air-bags and lived without mobile phones.

We did not have flat screen TV's, surround sound, iPods, Facebook, Twitter, Computers or the Internet.

But never the less we had a great time.

Australia's Men

There are some that go for love of a fight
And some for love of a land
And some for a dream of the world set free
Which they barely understand.

A dream of the world set free from Hate -
But splendidly, one and all,
Danger they drink as 'twere wine of Life'
And jest as they reel and fall.

Clean aims, rare faculties, strength and youth,
They have poured them freely forth
For the sake of the sun-steeped land they left
And the far green isle in the north.

What can we do to be worthy of them,
Now hearts are breaking for pride?
Give comfort at least to the wounded men
And the kin of the man that died.

By Dorothea MacKeller

Australian Poet, Born 1885—Died 1968

A Mother...

When you're a child she walks before you, to set an example. When you are a teenager she walks behind you, to be there should you need her. When you are an adult she walks beside you, so that as two friends you can enjoy life together.

Your Mother is Always With You....

Your mother is always with you,
She's the whisper in the leaves as you walk down the street.

She's the smell of bleach in your freshly laundered socks.
She's the cool hand on your brow when you're not well.

Your mother lives inside your laughter.

She's crystallized in every tear drop.

She's the place you came from,
your first home....

She's the map you follow with every step that your take.

She's your first love and your first heart break....

And nothing can on earth can separate you.

Not time, Not space....

Not even death....

Will ever separate you from your mother....

You carry her inside of you.
